

▶▶ Living Heritage: Growing our Cultural Heritage

Photos Courtesy of the University of Saskatchewan

As we negotiate our way through these interesting times, it is imperative that heritage be understood as a dynamic part of daily life that influences the choices we make, not only for ourselves, but for others as well. Our values, beliefs and ways of living are shaped by our family friends and teachers, as well as our own lived experience. The heritage that lives in each of use shapes our sense of identity belonging and place in the world. Who we think we are, where we come from, and where we are, in large measure impacts our ability to participate in and contribute to our personal relationships, our communities and society at large. Living Heritage emphasizes human experience and development, and makes us agents of change by empowering us all to negotiate values in pluralistic world and build a shared future.

This event will showcase Saskatchewan's living heritage including:

- Dance, music, and poetry;
- Keynote address by Dr. Richard MacKinnon (Canada Research Chair, Intangible Cultural Heritage, Cape Breton University) entitled "Living Heritage Stories from the East, Lessons for the West";
- Panel discussion entitled "Where Does it get Real";
- Presentations throughout the day by the JSGS Policy Shop addressing the question of "Why hasn't Canada signed on to the UNESCO Convention for the Safeguarding of Intangible Cultural Heritage?" ;
- Presentations by University of Regina students showcasing their research on Eco-Museums or "museums without walls".

Tuesday, March 10, 2015 | 9:30 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

▶▶ Click to Register

Regina Location: Shu Box Theatre, Riddell Centre, University of Regina

Registration: Those interested in attending are encouraged to register online at www.schoolofpublicpolicy.sk.ca (please select News and Events, then Events Calendar and the appropriate calendar date) or by clicking the link above. There is no cost to attend, but seating is limited.

FOR MORE INFORMATION, PLEASE VISIT WWW.SCHOOLOFPUBLICPOLICY.SK.CA